Back to a Changing Workplace for Leaders

NEW! What Your Leaders Need Right Now To Manage
During the Covid-19 Transition

YOUR ORGANIZATION FACES A CRITICAL TIME.

As you make plans to return to the workplace, what must your leaders do right now to help their teams work best together in line with your organization's values and standards?

How will they manage their teams effectively amid Covid-19 fears about health, family, and an uncertain work environment?

ELI's new module, Focus Right Now: Back to a Changing Workplace for Leaders, uses real-life scenarios to help your leaders manage these issues. It provides insights and specific strategies, including actions and communications, to prepare leaders for conversations with their teams as they return to the workplace and resume business operations.

Part of ELI's Civil Treatment® Workplace series, you can deliver Back to a Changing Workplace as part of your Civil Treatment initiative or as a stand-alone module in less than an hour.

Using ELI's award-winning methods and models, its flexibility allows you to seamlessly add your own organization's policies, standards, and messages as part of the module.

It can be delivered virtually or live by your Certified Civil Treatment instructors or ELI's professional facilitators.
